The CONSTITUTIONAL JOURNAL.

By JEFFREY BROADBOTTOM, of Covent-Garden, Esq;

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1746. [N°. 144.]

To the AUTHOR, &c.

SIR,

I THINK two Things ſhould be inſiſted on much, at this Time, by our political Authors: The Danger the Nation has been brought in by falſe Patriots, and the Remiſſneſs of the Clergy; while the firſt diſaffected the People by neglecting to give them the Securities they promiſed, the latter ſtrengthened the Enemy of our Laws and Religion by ſuffering the Popiſh Prieſts to make ſuch numerous Perverſions.

Now is the Time to get ſome Acts paſſed in the People's Favour, if ever: If the M———rs refuſe it, what are we to expect from them? Are we to be bug-bear'd as hitherto all along, by being told this is no Time to raiſe Diſputes or divide? Muſt not we demand our Rights becauſe the Pretender is at the Door? Muſt the Senſe of Liberty be eraſed by the Fear of impending Slavery? No; nothing can ſhew more our Deteſtation of a Popiſh Power, at this Time, than to inſiſt on having our Liberty moſt effectually ſecured. Let us heartily unite againſt the P———r, but let us at the ſame Time ſtrenuouſly demand our Rights. To tell us this is no Time to think of ſuch Things is, in other Terms, to tell us, "Be content with what you have, for you "will be in a worſe Condition, or at beſt no better than "what you are in at preſent, in caſe the P——r "ſhould come in."

As to our Clergy, they are ſtill, if poſſible, more inexcuſable than our M———rs, who for theſe thirty or forty Years paſt, have ſuffered the Emiſſaries of Rome to carry off their Sheep by Scores at a Time under their very Noſes, without offering to put the leaſt Stop to it, tho' often ſolicited and called upon, even in Print. I could name a certain P——te, who has been frequently importuned to rectify this grand Abuſe, but always ſhifted off the Trouble, as if it was none of his Buſineſs, or, indeed, as if he wiſhed Succeſs to the Progreſs of Popery. Graham, the Prieſt, in his Letter aſcribes his Succeſs in making 3000 Converts, in a few Years, to the Negligence of our Clergy, and the Thing is ſo notorious that nothing has contributed more to the Contempt they meet with among Laymen, who wiſh wel to the Conſtitution, than their Delinquency in thi Article. After ſuch willful Neglect, how can they have the Face to petition Heaven for Protection againſt the Dangers from Papiſts? After letting them propagate and ſtrengthen themſelves to ſuch a Degree, would they expect God ſhould deſtroy them for their Sakes? Is not this the higheſt Preſumption? Or, are they only acting the hypocritical Part? Should a P———r come in, and turn them out of their gainful Livings, would they not be juſtly puniſhed for their Faults? One would have imagined, it was their greateſt Intereſt to have kept Popery from ſpreading (which might be done without perſecuting) as that is the Power from which only they would ſuffer Damage. If theſe Hints ſhould be of any Uſe, it would afford great Satisfaction to,

SIR,

Your humble Servant,

SMALCALD.

To JEFFREY BROADBOTTOM, Eſq;

SIR,

YOUR publiſhing the Incloſed in your Journal will oblige

BRITANNIA.

An ELEGY.

DROOP not, Britannia, tho' the hoſtile Gaul,
With warlike Myriads, ſhade thy ſnowy Cliffs;
Nor tho' Rebellion ſtalk o'er half thy Land,
The Soldier-ſcaring Broad-Sword waving high;
Thou, with recover'd Glory, yet ſhalt reign
Ocean's fair Queen, and wild Ambition's Scourge.

Caſt o'er this pleaſing Scroll thy Tear-dim'd Eye,
The Liſt of foreign and domeſtic Aids;
To new Calamities new Aids oppos'd.

For thee, dejected Iſle! the Heſſians fight,
Innur'd to merchandize their Blood for Gold;
Belgia to thee wafts her pacific Bands;
And, (whoſe dread Proweſs thou canſt never doubt,
Of old experienced in far other Cauſe)
For thee the Danes embark, or will embark;
The Pruſſian too, once more thy firm Ally,
Reſigns to thee her Pandour-taming Troops;
Nor can the long-ſupported Auſtrian Houſe,
Its timely Help ungratefully withold;
Nor Hanover, when from Invaſion free,
Not lend to Fellow-Subjects ſocial Arms.

But as when firſt amidſt the Fields of Light,
Proud *Sat*abade rebellious Standard blaze;
(Satan the Highland Traytor of the Sky)
Tho' deigning Angels Miniſtry to uſe,
Self-potent, Self-ſecured, ſate Heaven's high King:
So, Albion, thou, diſdain not others Aid,
Yet to thyſelf thy Safety thou ſhalt owe.

From ſage Indifferences benumbing Bonds,
To Zeal, and Piety, and Thee reſtored,
Lo! round thee preſs thy valiant, wealthy Sons:
Thus round the fruitful Empreſs of the Hive,
On various Buſ'neſs for the common Good,
The Patriot Bees their active Skill employ;
Aſſociations now from ev'ry Part,
Of Hives and Fortunes gen'rous Offer make:
And now, what never yet was given in Jeſt,
Solid Subſcriptions pour the Sterling Show'r.
Diſſimilar in Manners, Int'reſt, Dreſs,
With Joy the Soldier and the Trader meet;
Prudently laviſh, from the Peace-fill'd Bag
This gives Aſſiſtance, wanted elſe in vain;
And That the vent'rous Volunteer inſtructs
To wield the Muſket, and to cock the Hat.
Oppoſing Factions in thy Cauſe unite,
And blended Contraries their Nature loſe;
For This the Horſe turns Foot, the Foot turns Horſe;
Mute are th' Italians, and the Engliſh ſing;
Proteſtants faſt, applauded Papiſts act;
E'en Judges fight, and Biſhops preach for This.

Droop not, Britannia, then; thou yet ſhalt reign
Ocean's fair Queen, and wild Ambition's Scourge;
Long as ſhall Clifton fill the Trump of Fame,
Or Carliſle's Siege thy glorious Annals grace.

SCOTLAND.

Edinburgh, Jan. 20. Thurſday laſt the Army under General Hawley, having aſſembled near Falkirk, encamp'd to the Weſtward of that Place, and about 9 o'Clock on Friday, there were repeated Intelligence of the Intelligence that Morning received, that the Rebels were marching by the South Side of the Torwood toward Dunipace: Theſe Accounts being confirmed the Army was immediately drawn up in Order of Battle, and marched forwards to meet them.

The Action began half an Hour after three. The Dragoons made the Attack with the Appearance of great Reſolution; but, upon receiving the firſt Fire, reel'd towards the Right, and many of them fled: This, with a violent Storm of Wind and Rain, which blew full in the Face of the Troops, put the Foot of the Left Wing in great Diſorder.——This Confuſion being immediately perceiv'd by the Officers on the Right, they, without Loſs of Time, march'd to ſtop the Progreſs of the Rebels, which they effectually did; and, by their good Conduct, and the Alertneſs of ſome Corps, drove them, by a continual Fire from the Field, with the utmoſt Precipitation.

In the mean Time the diſorder'd Infantry was rallied. ——The Rebels gave them nothing to do.—The Right Wing was entire Maſters of the Field, where the whole of the Troops continued 'till it was dark, and a full Hour after all Firing was ceaſed: But finding that the Rain had greatly ſpoil'd their Arms and Ammunition, it was judg'd proper to purſue their Advantage no further: And for Want of Proviſions and Ammunition, the Army marched that Night to Lithgow, and continued its March next Day to this City.

The Loſs of the Regular Troops, by the beſt Computation, does not exceed 200, and by all Accounts, the Rebels have at leaſt double that Number.

The Regiments who diſtinguiſh'd themſelves, were Barrel's and Ligonier's Foot.

It is hitherto impoſſible to give a particular Account of the Loſs of the Officers, as it is uncertain whether theſe miſſing be kill'd, or in the Enemy's Hands.

Edinburgh, Jan. 20. Yeſterday a Court Martial was ordered for the Trial of ſome Officers and Men who behav'd ill in the late Action, of which Brigadier Mordaunt is Preſident, and the Proceedings began this Morning. The Pretender's Son march'd back to Sterling Saturday Afternoon. That Morning the Rebels ſummoned the Caſtle there to ſurrender, and again in the Afternoon, but General Blakeney's Anſwer was, That he had always been look'd upon as a Man of Honour, and that the Rebels ſhould find he would die ſo. The Army is preparing to move from hence again, the Cannon and Stores being up to the Road from Bo[illegible] and Newcaſtle. As yet we have heard but of [illegible] our Men who were made Priſoners by the Rebels [illegible] carry'd to Stirling, one half of which belong'd [illegible]

Glaſgow Regiment; and we have alſo an Account of three Officers wounded. The others, who are miſſing, it is to be fear'd, are kill'd, particularly Sir Robert Munro, Lieutenant-Colonels Whitney, Powell and Ligonier, that as yet we have no abſolute Certainty, and cannot form a Liſt. One hundred and Twenty Men, ſuppoſed to have been loſt, got on board a Veſſel at Barrowſtounneſs, and came in here this Day, and more are continually coming in. The Loſs of the Rebels is, by all Accounts, very conſiderable, but the Number of the kill'd and wounded are not known. The Country People about Falkirk report, that ſix People of Note of their Army have been bury'd in that Neighbourhood, and that many of their Officers attended at thoſe Funerals. Sullivan is ſaid to be one of their Slain.

Edinburgh, Jan. 21. People of all Ranks here are under the deepeſt Concern for the unhappy Fate of Sir Robert Munro: The Attachment that he, his Family, and Clan, had to the preſent Government and Welfare of the Country, makes his Loſs at this Time the more to be regretted; but in a more particular Manner, by thoſe who had the good Fortune to be of his Acquaintance, his Friendſhip being ſincere, and his Services real and unaffected. What adds to the general Concern is, that Mr. Duncan Monro his Brother, led there only by his brotherly Love, ſhared the ſame Fate; and this unhappy Family is now repreſented by Sir Harry Monro, Captain in Lord Loudon's Regiment. The Rebels did ſo far Juſtice to Sir Robert's Merit, as to give him an honourable Interment in the Church-Yard of Falkirk.

Several other Gentlemen are either kill'ed or taken Priſoners; but as we cannot as yet diſtinguiſh which of theſe has been their Fate, we muſt wait a little longer.

A few Priſoners have fallen into the Rebels Hands, who are ſent to Stirling, whither their main Body is marched.

It is ſaid the Duke of Perth, Lord John Drummond, and Lochyel, are wounded.

Young Glengeary is mortally wounded at Falkirk, by one of the Rebels firing, without any Intention of doing hurt.

The Rebels have taken Poſſeſſion of the Houſe of Hyndford, and made it a Hoſpital for their wounded.

We ſhould have noticed in our laſt, that the Regiment of Old Buffs was one of thoſe that ſtood firm in the Late Battle, and was the laſt that left the Field.

Edinburgh, Jan. 23. Tueſday Night a Troop of St. George's Dragoons arrived here, being an Eſcort to the military Cheſt, which is lodged in the Caſtle.

We are well informed, that the Officers made Priſoners at the Battle of Preſton-pans, and confined in the Houſe of Glames, Cowper, and Leſlie, were forcibly hurried off by a great Number of People in Arms and diſguiſed, whom they could not reſiſt, and carried by the ſame Violence to Edinburgh; and afterwards thoſe at Pitſerran, Culroſs, and St. Andrews, were brought over by the ſame Methods.

A Fellow is committed to Jail, being charged with firing on the Centries on the Weſt Side of Leith Wynd; there was found in the Garret where he was lodged ſeveral Pieces, and in his Cheſt Powder and Ball.

Lord Mark Kerr's Dragoons is to be at Kelſo this Night.——Duke of Montagu's Horſe, and old Battalion of Foot, are following.

William Thornton, Eſq; who raiſed, maintained, and headed the Yorkſhire Blues, is lately arrived in Town; he has been carefully concealed ſince the Action near Falkirk, where he behaved very gallantly.

Four Deſerters from the Britiſh Army before the Battle of Fontenoy, part of the French Embarkation taken by the Mulford Man of War, were hanged in the Graſs Market this Morning.

We are obliged in Juſtice to acquaint the Public, that the Regiment of Brigadier-General Price formed on the Left of General Barrell's, and was one of thoſe that obliged the Rebels to retreat with Precipitation.

Extract of a private Letter from Leith, Jan. 25.

"By the laſt Account of the late Action near Falkirk, that came here laſt Night, we are aſſured the Rebels loſt 1000, and we about 250 Men. Several of our Officers are killed, Sir Robert Monroe, Lieut. Colonel Powell, &c. General Huske behaved to Admiration, and the whole Wing he commanded. We kept the Field of Battle two Hours after it was over; and ſome Letters ſay, the ſeven Cannon we left, for want of Horſes to draw them off, were ſpiked up. This Action being in a moſt ſolare Country, the Army was obliged to go back to Edinburgh, where they are preparing with all Expedition for a final Blow at the Villains, who are beſieging Stirling Caſtle; but we are in no Pain about what they can do there.

As the Accounts of the late Action in Scotland differ ſo much, the following may be depended upon as authentic, it being related by a Gentleman who was a Spectator of the Battle. The Place of Action was on Falkirk Moor, near the Torwood, laſt Friday Afternoon, the 17th Inſtant, between three and four o'Clock: About two o'Clock General Hawley obſerving the Rebels marching towards him on the South-Eaſt, about two Miles Diſtance, thought they intended their Attack from that Quarter, but that was only a Feint; the Attack did not begin there, but to the North-Weſt of the Village. The General ordered our Dragoons to attack them firſt on the Side of a Hill, in order to cover and gain Time to form our left Wing; they forced their firſt Line, but their ſecond oblig'd our Dragoons to retreat in ſome Diſorder; but our Right, commanded by General Huske, made a noble Stand, and did great Execution. In that Moment of Time that the Attack begun from the Right, there begun ſuch a Storm of Rain, or rather Wind and Water, as if the Elements had conſpired againſt us, that our Men could not look up, and rendered their Firelocks entirely uſeleſs; which the Highland Gentry ſoon perceiving, they made the beſt of their Time. In ſhort, General Hawley obſerving that our Left Wing had given Ground, made a regular Retreat with the Right, and brought the whole Army off to Linlithgow that Night, ſix Miles from the Field of Battle, but took ſo much Time as to burn our Tents, and render them uſeleſs to the Rebels. We loſt in the Field of Battle 300 Men, ſeven Pieces of Cannon, and ſome of our Baggage. The Rebels did not purſue us, but remained on the Field of Battle, and intended to march immediately for Stirling. Their Loſs by all Accounts is agreed to be more conſiderable than ours. Our Army was joined in the Morning before the Battle by 800 loyal Clans from Argyleſhire, who behaved very well, as did alſo the Glaſgow Volunteers. It is ſaid, the half of our Army, meaning the Infantry, was not engaged."

COUNTRY NEWS.

Briſtol, Jan. 25. We hear from Dungarvon in Ireland, that in the late Storms, a Ship laden with Fruit was ſtove to Pieces between that Place and Waterford, and all the Crew periſhed.

LONDON.

According to various Letters from the North, grounded upon particular Informations from Officers in the Army, it appears that in the late Engagement the Rebels loſt many more than the King's Forces; ſome Letters compute the latter at 500, and the former at 1200; others ſay in general, that the Rebels loſt three to our one, without ſpecifying Numbers; and in ſome Letters it is aſſerted, that ſeveral of the Rebel Chiefs, particularly Lord Elcho and Lord George Murray are among the Number of the Slain. By comparing theſe Letters, the following Account of the Officers, either kill'd or miſſing, has been collected, viz.

We hear that a Captain and two Enſigns are likely to be ſhot for their cowardly Behaviour at the late Action in Scotland.——'Tis ſurprizing that thoſe who are ſo degenerate as to be Cowards, will preſume to enter among the Britiſh Soldiery.——A ſufficient Encouragement to Bravery the following Inſtances ſurely are, that among the Regiments who behaved well at Falkirk, Ligonier's, which ſeemed to have the Priority in that Reſpect, was engaged from the Beginning of the Action to the Ending of it, and kept ſuch a continual Fire, that the Rebels could not poſſibly come upon them Sword in Hand, by which Means they eſcap'd without having ſo much as one private Man kill'd. Barrill's was another of the Regiments who ſtood gallantly to their Buſineſs, and they loſt but 13 out of 800:——In ſhort, all thoſe that behav'd bravely came off with Flying Colours.

Saturday the Royal Scotch and Sinclaire's Regiments of Foot, march'd from Croydon, and the Villages adjacent, for Brighthelmſtone in Suſſex. The ſame Day Orders were ſent for the Hampſhire Regiment now at Portſmouth, to march from thence to Eaſt-Grinſtead in Suſſex.

Laſt Saturday Morning ſome malicious Perſons ſet Fire to ſix Stacks of Corn and ſix of Hay, belonging to Mr. Hillars, a Farmer at Beddington in Surrey, which were entirely conſumed. Sunday in the Afternoon happened at Bromley in Kent, a violent Storm of Thunder and Lightning, attended with a Shower of Hail-ſtones, the like not known in the Memory of the oldeſt Man.

Extract of a Letter from Cheſter, Jan. 25.

"On Wedneſday was brought here in 17 Waggons and Carts, near 120 Rebels, including their Women; there are not above 20 of them, but what are a Parcel of deſpicable Wretches, conſiſting chiefly of old Men and Boys: They ſeem not to have the leaſt Concern about their Condition; and make no Heſitation of ſaying, their P—— will ſoon come and releaſe them. They have three or four Pipers with them, who are generally playing to divert them."

On Saturday laſt, between Four and Five o'Clock in the Afternoon, two of the Walthamſlow Coaches and a Gentleman's Chariot were robb'd between Straford and Ruckholt-Houſe, by two Highwaymen indifferently mounted, one on a grey, the other on a Bay Horſe. They took from the Paſſengers three Gold Watches, Money, &c. to the Amount of about 100 l. and rode off. They were ſeen hunting in the Morning on Epping Foreſt, and had been loitering about Walthamſlow and Low-layton ſeveral Hours that Afternoon, before they committed the Robberies.

Sunday laſt arrived a Lisbon Mail, by which here is an Account, that the Queen's Apartment of the Palace at Lisbon was conſumed by Fire.

Extract of a Letter from Sunderland, Jan. 23.

"Yeſterday a Number of People, conſiſting chiefly of Sailors, went about ten o'Clock in the Morning to the Popiſh Maſs Houſes in this Town, where they found ſeveral People at Prayers, and a Couple to be married, who with Mr. Hankins their Prieſt all fled out: Upon which the Sailors immediately pulled down their Alter and Crucifix, together with all the Seats, the Prieſt's Robes, all their Books, the Furniture, and every individual Thing in the Room, and burnt them in a Fire in the Street made for that Purpoſe; and alſo a large Library of Books and Papers belonging to the Prieſt, among which was found (before they were committed to the Flames) a Liſt of the Names of ſeveral People in this Place, who are well-affected to the preſent Government, called by the Papiſts Odd Friends, with Letters annexed to the Names not yet decyphered. The Liſt ſo found is wrote by the Popiſh Prieſt's own Hand, and is as follows.

A Liſt of Odd Friends.

NICHOLAS TAYLER."

According to private Letters, from Edinburgh, the Right Hon. the Lord Viſcount Glenorchy in Argyleſhire with a conſiderable Body of Men, raiſed on his own Eſtate for the Service of the Government, and it is expected he will very ſoon march in order to join the Army.

The ſame Letters ſay, that the Nobility and Gentry of Cathneſs, Sutherland, Roſs, and other Counties in the North of Scotland, are drawing together a very numerous Body of their Vaſſals and Tenants, in order to join the Right Honourable the Earl of Loudon, with a View to enable his Lordſhip to march Southwards, and to put the Rebels between two Fires.

By a Letter from Berwick upon Tweed we are inform'd, that the Beginning of laſt Week an old Man was taken into Cuſtody by ſome Soldiers on Duty, for being too inquiſitive as to the Strength of that Place; and upon ſearching him, there was found in his Pocket a very particular Account of the Number of the Garriſon, and in what Poſture of Defence the Town was in; upon which he was committed to Jail. He had been ſeen begging a few Days before.

Wedneſday Morning a Man driving a Cart near Iſlington Church, had the Misfortune to ſlip down; by which Accident the Wheel went over him, and he died about an Hour after.

We hear Brighthelmſtone in Suſſex, that the Smugglers, who for ſome Time paſt have inveſted thoſe Parts, came to the Skirts of that Town arm'd with Piſtols and Cutlaſſes; but on a Party of the King's Forces coming towards them, they made off, leaving three Horſes behind them.

From the London Gazette Extraordinary.

Fluſhing, Jan 27th. N. S. The French ſeem again to have made ſome Alteration in their Schemes of invading Great Britain. They had drawn to Calais and Boulogne their Troops, and the Ships and Boats which were deſigned to tranſport them, but obſerving their Ports ſo well watched, the Troops were laſt Week diſembarked again, and are upon their March back towards Dunkirk and Oſtend. What Preparations may be making at Dunkirk is uncertain, but all the Hoſtages for the Ranſom of Captures were on Saturday laſt ſent away from thence in a great Hurry, though ſome of them ought to have had their Liberty many Days before. On Sunday laſt they began at Oſtend to equip for Tranſports all the Ships in that Harbour, with preſſing Orders for Expedition: There are no Ships of War, or Privateers of Note there; but four or five large Ships, ſome of them about 400 Tons or above, about as many Ships of between 100 and 150 Tons, and three or four ſmall ones under 100 Tons. The Fiſhing Boats and ſmall Craft were on Monday not returned from Calais and Boulogne, but were hourly expected, having been diſcharged the Service. Quarters had alſo ſome Days before been ordered to be provided at Oſtend, for a great Number of Troops ſaid to be on their March.

Porto, Jan. 28. We have Advice from Galicia, that ſix Spaniſh Ships of War from the Havannah were arrived at the Groine with a very great Treaſure on board, the Particulars of which were differently reported, but ſaid to be the greateſt Part for the King's Account: That with them arrived five large French Men of War, which met them at Sea in their Paſſage from Cadiz, from whence they had ſailed with Orders to join the four Spaniſh Ships at Ferrol, and to proceed with them to join the Breſt Squadron, and that it was expected they would ſail thither in a few Days, the neceſſary Orders having been given for all the abſent Officers and Seamen to repair immediately on board their reſpective Ships, but that by all Appearance none of the Militia would be embarked, nor any part of the Regiment of regular Troops that were at the Groine. That Diſpoſitions were making for the immediate Landing of the Treaſure, and for putting it in Security, for tranſporting it to Lugo, and that afterwards the Ships would go round to Ferrol to repair. By Letters from St. Sebaſtians of the 27th of laſt Month, ſix Engliſh Prizes had been carried into that Harbour.

Edinburgh, Jan. 24. Every Thing is now ready for another March againſt the Rebels. The Troops are ſupplied with all the Neceſſaries they wanted, and we are now only expecting the Train of Artillery from Newcaſtle, which it is hoped may arrive upon the 26th, tho' a great Quantity of Snow has fallen ſince Yeſterday, and the Roads are as bad as poſſible. Part of Lord Mark Kerr's Regiment of Dragoons is come to Kelto. Captain Thornton, who commanded the Yorkſhire Volunteers in the late Action near Falkirk, and who was taken Priſoner by the Rebels, with his Lieutenant and ſeventeen of his Men, has made his Eſcape from them, and came in here Yeſterday, as did alſo twenty five of our Soldiers, who all eſcaped out of the Church at Falkirk. Theſe laſt report, that it was with the greateſt Difficulty they they could get any Proviſions whilſt they were in Cuſtody, the greateſt Part of thoſe which had been ordered for their Uſe, having been forced from them by thoſe who were their Guards. The Glaſgow Regiment is ordered home. The Siege of Stirling Caſtle proceeds very ſlowly: General Blakeney has ſo often fired upon the Men at Work upon the Batteries, and with ſo much Execution, that the Rebels cannot get any of their own People to go near them, for which Reaſon the Iriſh Brigade, and Drummond's Regiment from France, have been ordered upon that Service. But we have Accounts from the Deſerters from the Brigade and Regiment above-mentioned, that there are not above 200 left of thoſe who came over to Scotland from Flanders. The Court Martial continues ſitting: Some private Men of the Foot have been condemned to be ſhot for Cowardice. Moſt of the Priſoners in the Rebels Poſſeſſion, are Men of the Glaſgow Regiment, and Country People who were preſent at the Action out of Curioſity.

Edinburgh, Jan. 26. Part of the Train of Artillery and Stores, which we expected from England, is come in this Afternoon. We ſhall move as ſoon as poſſible towards the Rebels, who are in great Diſtreſs for Want of Proviſions, and have as yet made no great Progreſs againſt the Caſtle of Stirling, having only fired hitherto with ſmall Arms from the Houſes. General Blakeney has killed ſo many of them, that they are quite diſheartened. He is in a good Condition in all Reſpects, and has not loſt a Man. Coloniel Ligonier died here laſt Night of a Quinſey.

The True Cordial QUINTESSENCE of VIPERS, the moſt Noble and Grand Preparation in the whole Materia Medica, for the real, ſubſtantial Cure of Impotency in Men, and Barrenneſs in Women; and is vaſtly preferable to Viper Wine, or any other Preparation of Vipers whatever, as being replete with the full and whole virtues of them.

A Few Drops of it only, gives ſuch a generous Warmth, and ſo exceedingly delights the whole Animal Spirits, Senſes, and Nerves, as ſoon to ſhew what it will do upon a little Continuance of it: for it not only promotes, and prompts to a Deſire, but alſo furniſhes proper Matter for the Support and Eſtabliſhment of a true laſting Inclination and Power.

By this Means it anſwers the End as well of Food as Phyſick; nor is there any thing in Nature beſides that can in that Reſpect come up to it conſidering that it univerſally nourihes and reſtores in all the Deficiencies of Deſire and Vigour, without the leaſt forcing the Veſſels, or ſtimulating the Parts, as moſt other Medicines for theſe Purpoſes do: And tho' it be a Maxim in Phyſick, that SINE CERERE & BACCHO FRIGET VENUS, this, in which it is ſo ſufficiently nutritious as to want no Aſſiſtance that Way; tho' but it muſt be allowed, that good Eating and Drinking with it, cannot but in ſome Degree, at leaſt as an Auxiliary contribute to its Efficacy.

Nor do it not only furniſh Matter and create Deſire, but alſo ſtrengthens Power (as it braces up and corroborates the Veſſels) and gives an elaſtick Springineſs to the Muſcular Fibres in Men, and corrects, cleanſes, and comforts the Fat ruggedness of Wombs in Women, the Looſeneſs and Laxity of the former, and the Foulneſs, Coldneſs, or Obſtruction of the latter, being more the Cauſe of Impotency or Infertility, in their reſpective Sexes and Toilſome tedious Sterility in the other than any Thing elſe hath been; and that it is Baſilicick, and greatly Reſtorative, is confirmed by long Experience, and we have many Inſtances in Phyſical Writings, of Perſons ſtriving to a healthful old Age, as well as recovered from lethargick Decays and Weakneſſes, by a continued Uſe of the common Preparations of Vipers, which this Quinteſſence, by being ſo vaſtly more Efficacious, brings about in a Quarter of the Time, and with the Tenth Part of the Quantity.

Thoſe who but once try it, will ſo pleaſantly experience its nutritive quickening Properties, in exhilerating the Heart, reviving the Spirits, comforting the Vitals, circulating the Juice, and recreating and renovating, as it were the whole Man, that they will never be without it, for it is ſuch a preſent Help, in Time of Need, as that on the taking then but a Doſe or two more of it extraordinary, it will inſenſibly animate the dull inſipid Spirits, and rouze up and actuate the ſluggiſh enfeebled Faculties, in both Sexes, as to excite and enable where it could hardly be expected: and at the ſame Time it ſo from Fails to render that conjugal Act real Pleaſure. Price Half a Guinea a Bottle.

Mr. Weſt, Goldſmith, who uſed to ſell the Bottles, being lately dead, it is now Sold only by his Son-in-Law, Mr. Johnſon, a Jeweller, at the Seven Stars in Vere Street, Clare-Market, Sealed up, with Directions (for any Meſſenger) upon taking for each a Bottle of Quinteſſence.

ANTI-SIPHYLICON

THE only ſhort and moſt infallible CURE in the Univerſe for the Venereal Diſeaſe from the ſlighteſt Infection to the moſt extreme and deplorable Degree of it, even when the Blood and Juices are thoroughly contaminated with its malignant Virus, and the very Bones are affected with it.

Freſh Infections, call'd Claps, with all their attendant Symptoms, tho' ever ſo ſevere, are entirely carried off by it in a few Days, and ſo as effectually to prevent the Blood and Juices from being tainted with any remaining Relicks, on one Hand, or a ſeminal Gleet, or Weakneſs, to happen on the other.

And the moſt inveterate Degree of the French Illneſs, attended with nocturnal Pains, univerſal Breakings-out, and all other the moſt exaſperated Symptoms, are ſoon overcome by it, and effectually and much more ſafely cured than by Salivation, Inunction, or any other Method whatever, and in ſo eaſy and pleaſant a Manner, without impairing Strength, or occaſioning any Inconvenience, as loudly to beſpeak it the only appoſite Remedy, or true Venereal Antidote in the World, and this tome Thouſands have, to their great Joy, experienced.

It is pleaſant to take, occaſions no Sickneſs or Diſorder, nor requires Confinement, but may be taken, and the Cure be accompliſhed, without the Knowledge of the neareſt Friend.

Thoſe who ſuſpect they have received an Injury may, by only a Dole or two of it, be perfectly freed from all Apprehenſions; for it ſuffers no lurking Venom to lie hid in the Body, but wholly extirpates it, Root and Branch, in a gentle, eaſy, and moſt effectual Manner.

All ſuch, likewiſe, as doubt they have ſome remaining Relicks of former Injuries, may, by a few Doſes of it, entirely free themſelves from all Suſpicions of that Kind; for it admits of no Foulneſs, Corruption, or Putrefaction whatever, to remain in the Fluids, or to adhere to the Solids; and, on that Account, in all Scorbutick, Scrophulous, and even Leprous Eruptions, or Foulneſſes of the Skin, or glandulous Swellings, and Impurities of the Juices, it does more by one Doſe than any other Medicine, yet known, can by ten.

The Price of this moſt noble Anti-Siphylicon is but ſix Shillings a Pot, which, conſidering its extraordinary Efficacy, one Pot only being ſufficient, in moſt Caſes, to accompliſh the Cure, is not a tenth Part of its Value; and is appointed by the Author to be had only at Mr. Radford's Toy-ſhop, at the Roſe and Crown, againſt St. Clement's Church-yard, in the Strand, ready ſealed up, with a Book of Inſtructions, by the Peruſal of which all Perſons who were ever affected with any Degree of the Venereal Diſeaſe may perfectly underſtand their own Condition, and certainly know when, and when not, the Venereal Poiſon is entirely rooted out of their Bodies. Note, Ask only for a Six Shilling Pot for the Scurvy.

Concerning Gleets and Seminal Weakneſſes of all Kinds,

ALL judicious Phyſicians and Surgeons allow, that nothing is more difficult to cure than Stubborn Gleets and Seminal Weakneſſes whether occaſion'd by too ſevere purging for Venereal Injuries, violent Strains, Pollutio ſui, or any other Cauſe whatever; and that they are dangerous in their Conſequences, as well as difficult to cure, is as certain ſince they exceedingly weaken the Generative Faculties, infeeble the whole Nervous Syſtem, often bring on Hectick Heats, a Tabes Dorſalis, or Conſumpiton of the Back, or an Atrophy or Nervous Conſumptions which frequently terminate in Death itſelf.

All ſuch therefore who have the Misfortune to be troubled with Old ſtubborn Gleets, Seminal Effuſions, Involuntary Emiſſions, exceſſive Nocturnal Pollutions, or any Weakneſs of the Kidneys, Ureters, or Bladder, the Diabetis, Incontinency of Urine, or Difficulty of holding their Water, would doubtleſs be glad to meet with a certain, ſafe and ſpeedy Cure, which they muſt aſſuredly may, by the taking only a ſmall Quantity of a tranſcendent Balſamick Reſtrictive Electuary, now publiſhed for a general Good, after having for many Years in private Practice been experienced never once to fail perfectly curing the moſt ſtubborn Gleets known, in a few Days, without Difficulty or Trouble; as alſo all other Weakneſſes of the Back, Reins, Seminal Veſſels and Urinary Paſſages, which it almoſt inſtantly cures, bringing to rights and reſtoring all thoſe Parts and Paſſages to their natural Tone and priſtine Vigour, in a very extraordinary Manner, and by taking a few Doſes of it only.

This tranſcendent Balſamick Reſtrictive Electuary is neither diſagreeable to take, nor occaſions the leaſt Diſorder, but is a wonderful Reſtorative in all Weakneſs and Decay of Conſtitution of any Kind, and particularly ſtrengthens the Back, Reins, Seminal and Urinary Veſſels, to an immenſe Degree, inſomuch that in any Debility of them, one Doſe of it does more than ten of any other Remedy yet found out; and all Perſons fatigued with Gleets or Seminal Weakneſſes of any Sort, or Weakneſſes of the Urinary Veſſels, who take it, will in three Days time find it ſo very effectual, that they will be moſt agreeably ſurpriſed at it.

When a Medicine will infallibly accompliſh ſuch a ſafe, ſpeedy and perfect Cure of ſuch difficult Maladies, as Gleets and Seminal Weakneſſes are, as this Great Remedy truly and directly will, even after all other Means and Medicines have been try'd in vain; too much cannot be ſaid in Praiſe of it, and this all who ever took it for any of the abovemention'd Purpoſes, have readily declared.

The Price is but 6s. a Pot, altho' for its abſolute Efficacy, one Pot alone being ſufficient in moſt Caſes to accompliſh a Cure, worth ten time, as much, and by the Author's ſpecial Appointment, is to be had only at Mr. Radford's Toyſhop at the Roſe and Crown againſt St. Clement's Church Yard in the Strand, ready ſealed up, with a Book of Inſtructions, which whomſoever carefully reads will be complete Maſter of his own Caſe, and perfectly know, when the Gleet or Weakneſs he is afflicted with ſucceeds a Venereal Injury, whether all the Malignity of the foul Diſeaſe is intirely extirpated or not.

Note, Ask only for a 6s. Pot of Balſamick Electuary.
